20 PERISH IN COLOMBIA EARTHQUAKE

Bella's Political Rival Seized In Eastern Algeria

Mohammed Boudiaf Arrested; Increase In Tension Noted

ALGIERS (AP) — Mohammed Boudiaf, dissident vice premier Ahmed Ben Bella's bitterest political enemy, was held under arrest by pro-Ben Bella forces somewhere in eastern Algeria today, jeopardizing moves to reconcile the nation's quarreling politicians.

Boudiaf's arrest by guerrillas of Wilaya (Zone) No. 1 raised the threat of violent retaliation from an estimated 10,000 fierce Berber guerrillas of Wilaya No. 3, Boudiaf's stronghold in the Kabylie Mountains east of Algiers.

Other leaders of the rival camps converged on Algiers for a new effort to end the dispute which has paralyzed Algeria since French rule ended four weeks ago today. The peace moves seemed doomed to failure as long as Boudiaf was held.

Boudiaf, a vice premier in the government of Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda, was picked up Monday on a visit to his native village, M'sila, about 110 miles southeast of Algiers. The village on the sun-dried Hodna Plateau between the Aures and Kabylie mountains lies a mile outside the anti-Ben Bella Wilaya No. 3.

When Boudiaf, escorted by four of his Berber soldiers, arrived at his home for the first time since the end of the Algerian war, the house was promptly surrounded by a well-armed detachment of Wilaya No. 1 men.

Local Moslem officials said Boudiaf and his escort put up no resistance.

Boudiaf and Ben Bella became bitter political and personal foes during five years they spent together in French captivity during the French-Algerian war. When Ben Bella's drive to take over the government picked up steam last week, Boudiaf and Vice Premier Belkacem Krim set up headquarters in Tizi Ouzou and called for all-out resistance to Ben Bella's big for power.

It was not known whether Boudiaf was arrested on Ben Bella's

Faubus Seeks Fifth Term As Governor

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas votes today on whether Gov. Orval E. Faubus, storm center of the 1957 Little Rock school integration crisis, should have a fifth two-year term.

An estimated 375,000 to 400,000 electors were to choose among Faubus and five opponents in a Democratic primary in which the fifth term was the overriding issue.

Opposing Faubus were Sid McMath, a former governor who launched Faubus' career in state politics; U.S. Rep. Dale Alford, a congressman without a district; Vernon Whitten, a Mount Holly businessman; Kenneth Coffelt of Little Rock, a crusading attorney, and David A. Cox, a farmer from Weiner.

These men all contended that reelection of Faubus would create a dictatorship in the state. That cry drowned out all other issues — including segregation, which Faubus used so successfully in 1958 and 1960.

Faubus' camp predicted confidently that he would poll 58 per cent of the vote. He got slightly less than 58 per cent in 1960.

All opponents forecast he would fall short of the clear majority he needs to avoid a runoff primary on Aug. 14.

Will File Petition To Halt Filibuster

Senate Leaders Plot Against Opponents Of Satellite Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders plan to point an uncertain weapon—limitation of debate—at a small squad of filibusterers trying to talk to death the administration's communications satellite bill.

Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., assistant Democratic floor leader, said a cloture petition—to cut off debate—would be filed today.

This would force a showdown on the motion to bring the bill formally before the Senate. However, it's been 35 years since the Senate last agreed to limit debate and thus force a vote on a measure.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., one of the Democratic liberals trying to kill the satellite bill which would create a private corporation to own and operate the space network, told reporters he was confident the cloture move would be beaten.

It requires the votes of two-thirds of the senators present.

The filibuster group brushed aside a warning Monday that they may be endangering the November election chances of their Democratic colleagues and pressed on with their speeches.

Gore held the floor five hours up to recess time Monday night after a session running 11 hours and 42 minutes.

Sen. Maurice B. Neuberger, D-Ore., spoke for 4½ hours, slipping out of her high-heeled shoes and standing in her stocking feet in the final minutes.

She charged that under the bill billions of tax dollars spent in research and development would be turned over to a "private monopoly" dominated by American Telephone & Telegraph Co. The filibustering group wants the satellite corporation to be government-owned.

The bill would establish a corporation owned half and half by communications companies and the public through stock purchases.

The measure, proposed by President Kennedy, has been passed by the House and approved by the Senate Space and Commerce committees.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., who advocates government ownership of the space network, has proposed that the Senate postpone action until after the November elections.

But there were indications of

In Effort to Unify the Congo

U.S. To Pressure Katanga Province

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is reported ready to support strong political and economic measures against secessionist Katanga Province in an effort to unify the crisis-ridden Congo under a modified federal government.

President Kennedy is understood to have made the basic decision. Precise measures are still being worked out by officials here and in consultation with allied governments and U.N. authorities.

U.S. Ambassador Edmund A. Gullion came here for consultation about 10 days ago and is expected to return to Leopoldville in a day or so. The purpose of Gullion's return to Washington was to consult on pressures which might be used to bring Moise Tshombe, president of Katanga Province, into line with the central government.

Two things are at stake, officials said. First and most important is that the Kennedy administration see the problem is to make revenues from Katanga's rich mineral exports available to the central government. The second objective is to establish firmly the overriding authority of the Leopoldville regime which is headed by Premier Cyrille Adoula.

U.S. officials say privately that if Adoula continues much longer without revenues from Katanga's wealth—now fully controlled by Tshombe—his regime faces critical financial troubles. On the political side, officials said, his inability to assert authority over Katanga is making him increasingly vulnerable to efforts to

Union Official Denies Strike Payoff Charge

WASHINGTON (AP)—An ousted union official denies demanding $5,000 as the price to use his influence to end a strike holding up work on 11 nuclear submarines.

Arthur Vars, deposed president of the Boilermakers local at the Groton, Conn., submarine shipyard, voiced the denial Monday in unsworn testimony before a closed meeting of the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

The subcommittee's chairman, Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said the senators heard conflicting testimony on the matter "at an informal meeting Monday."

McClellan said the question is: Whether Vars demanded, or was offered, $5,000 and other benefits as an out-of-court settlement of a lawsuit.

Or whether Vars demanded the money for his support of a proposed strike settlement at the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp.

Vars insists it was an offer to settle a lawsuit he had filed challenging his union expulsion. He had been expelled both as president and as a union member on charges of irregularities.

Vars said they were "trumped-up charges" and that he is being offered re-instatement.

McClellan, without naming any names, told the Senate earlier Monday that his subcommittee should hold formal hearings into what he called allegations of a payoff demand in the settlement negotiations. Vars later appeared before the subcommittee, saying he hoped to "set the record straight about rumors concerning $5,000."

Vars contended "it's fantastic to say that I had anything to do with the strike. They're looking for a scapegoat... the men themselves voted for a strike."

Demonstration Ban Asked by Albany Officials

Cite Violence During Racial Meetings As Reason for Halt

ALBANY, Ga. (AP) — City officials said they would stress past incidents of violence during mass racial demonstrations at today's session of their U.S. District Court fight to ban such protests by Negro leaders.

Mayor Asa D. Kelley Jr. planned to take a hand in questioning witnesses as the city seeks to prove that anti-segregation demonstrations would result in mass disorder and violence.

Kelley, a practicing attorney, is one of three city officials requesting a permanent injunction after a temporary order was lifted in a series of legal maneuvers by defendants in the case.

The hearing opened Monday with U.S. Dist. Judge J. Robert Elliott ruling he had jurisdiction in the case.

Defendants include integration leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. who was taken from a jail cell for the hearing.

Fifteen Negroes and a white woman were arrested and joined their leader behind bars after a surprise prayer demonstration in front of City Hall following the court session.

Prayer meetings expressing sympathy with the Albany Negroes were staged in New York, Baltimore and Hartford, Conn.

Petitions protesting the arrest of King and other leaders were presented to the White House.

The Albany demonstration was led by a Negro who identified himself as Albert L. Dunn. The group prayed and sang "We Shall Overcome."

Police Chief Laurie Pritchett told them:

"Either go or go to jail," Dunn then asked Pritchett:

"A prayer and a song will create a disturbance in America?"

During the opening session of the Albany court hearing, the police chief testified that three mass marches last December attracted large crowds of spectators and created a tense, explosive situation.

"In my opinion, it was a tense situation where disorders could have erupted," Pritchett said. "If any little incident happened, there would have been serious disorder."

In refusing to dismiss the case, Elliott ruled he had jurisdiction despite a stay of his original temporary injunction by Chief Judge Elbert P. Tuttle of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The Columbus, Ga., judge said should he step out of the case, it would be the same as saying he could hear suits by minorities but not majorities.

Hays Calls For Tougher Rules On U.S. Grants

COLUMBIANA — "It's time we started getting tougher with our foreign aid grants to countries in South America and Africa," Congressmen Wayne L. Hays declared in a talk to members of the Columbiana Rotary Club Monday night at Valley Golf club.

Hays, who also touched on other international subjects, said that too much of the money we send to help foreign nations "stays at the top and doesn't get to the masses of people who need assistance."

"The United States should insist that the wealthy five per cent of these countries start putting funds back into their own programs to help themselves, instead of getting loans from us and salting the money in Swiss banks," the congressman declared.

Referring to Russia, Hays said that while we have problems, the Soviets have plenty of problems besetting them.

He pointed out that:

1. We have food surpluses and Russia has food shortages.
2. They have Red China at their backs and that far eastern nation is a real thorn in their side.
3. Cuba has turned out to be a showplace to South American countries that communism just doesn't work, and he said the meat supply per person in Cuba today is as low as it was when Cuban slavery persisted years ago.

The speaker was introduced at the meeting by Robert Hum, program chairman. Hays later returned to Washington.

Officials Fear Toll Will Rise; 200 Injured

10 Communities Stricken; Emergency Aid Rushed to Area

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—Officials fear the toll will rise from earthquakes that rocked wide areas of central and western Colombia Monday.

First official reports said at least 20 persons died and 200 were injured. Scores of houses were destroyed or damaged. Hundreds were reported homeless.

(Reports reaching Panama said at least 27 persons died in Colombia, 20 of them in the collapse of a factory in Pereira.)

The extent of the destruction was not determined immediately, because the earthquakes knocked out communications with a number of areas.

At least 10 communities were reported without electric or telephone service.

Authorities ordered emergency aid rushed to stricken areas and armed forces were called out to help move the injured to hospitals.

Preceded by a series of lighter tremors minutes apart, the last and strongest of the shocks registered 9 on an intensity scale of 12 at the Andes Geophysical Institute in Bogota.

It was described as the most severe since an earthquake last December killed 21 persons in central Colombia. A large number of buildings damaged by last December's shocks collapsed under the impact of the latest jolts, authorities said.

Officials said the earthquake's epicenter was 155 miles west of Bogota, in the valley of the Cauca River, which runs between the western and central Andean Cordilleras. The shocks were felt as far away as Venezuelan border areas to the north and Quito, the capital of Ecuador, to the south.

Hardest hit were Manizales and Pereira, towns of 50,000 and 30,000 people about 25 miles apart on the western slopes of the central Cordillera.

Officials said the dead in Pereira were women employees of a garment factory which caved in.

At least 100 of the factory's 200 women workers were reported injured.

House Vetoes Request For Shelter Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has rejected President Kennedy's request for $568 million to launch a fallout shelter program but approved another $80.5 million for other civil defense projects.

The House upheld its Appropriations Committee which had recommended removing Kennedy's $568,755,000 shelter program request from the $1.1-billion omnibus bill financing 26 federal agencies.

Kennedy had asked the funds to begin a program of shelter construction, research and development under the Department of Defense. He also had asked $41,455,000 for stockpiling of medical supplies by the Public Health Service but the House voted only $5.5 million.

The House approved $10 million for Civil Defense research and study and $65 million to continue the present Civil Defense program.

In all, the House trimmed about a billion dollars from various administration requests. But it still wound up voting $2 billion more than the same agencies got in the last fiscal year. Most of the increase—$1,972,365,000—is for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

6 Military Programs Set for Fall Debuts

Men In Uniforms Will Dominate TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Television's preoccupation last season was medicine. Next season, it will be uniforms.

Of 32 new prime-time network programs now in production, six are concerned with military life, and in mood they range from comedy to adventure.

ABC, which built its audience and finances with action shows, has three of them. Two, "Combat" and "The Gallant Men," are adventure stories of World War II infantrymen. "McHale's Men," about the Navy, combines comedy and adventure.

NBC has two salutes in a row on Sunday night: "McKeever and the Colonel," a comedy about life at a military academy, and "Ensign O'Toole," which a number of knowledgeable people insist will be the surprise comedy hit of the network schedule. Then there is NBC's "Don't Call Me Charlie," which concerns an Army veterinarian and his colonel in Paris.

Uniforms other than military will be prominent. There will be CBS' entry in the stethoscope series, "The Nurses." This will be to television's now traditional format of the older star and the younger star—in this case the experienced wise nurse and the young eager one.

An episode in NBC's "Dr. Kildare" series has been stretched into a whole series about a psychiatrist, "The 11th Hour." The usual Kildare-Gillespie casting will be observed by giving the mature psychiatrist (Wendell Corey) a young, handsome aide, a psychologist. And, of course, both the nurses and the head-men will be wearing starched white.

Then there's "Our Man Higgins," ABC's answer to Hazel. Higgins, played by Stanley Holloway, is a butler.

Carol Burnett is having a sensationally successful tour with her summer act and is in demand for guest shots on top television variety shows now that she's no longer a "Garry Moore Show" regular. She's holding back, however, because her heart still belongs to Broadway—perhaps playing Fanny Brice in a musical.

7:30—Ch. 3, Laramie: "The Runt." Sandy Catlin has had nothing to do with his outlaw family for years. When he hesitates to help his three fugitive stepbrothers, they burn his crops and threaten to kill his wife.

8—Ch. 5 Bachelor Father: "Kelly the Yes Man." Kelly, running for vice president of the sophomore class, makes three campaign promises which involve the talents and services of Uncle Bentley, Peter and her boyfriend.

8:30—Ch. 8, Dobie Gillis: "The Second Most Beautiful Girl in the World." Sally Bean is so glib and kind that her parents are afraid that she will fall in love too easily. Therefore, they tell her that she must have two escorts when she goes on dates.

9—Ch. 8, Jack Benny: "Carnege Hall Salutes Jack Benny." Isaac Stern and Van Cliburn are among the musicians who pay tribute to Jack Benny for the benefit concert he has given for musicians' pension and endowment funds.

10—Ch. 5, Alcoa Premiere: "A Place to Hide" and "Cry out in Silence." In the first drama a girl takes a job with two dog breeders who live far out in the country. The second story involves a famous and popular actress who must undergo throat surgery.

Movies Tonight
11:20—Ch. 8, "Honeymoon in Bali." A successful New York businesswoman will not let love interfere with her career.

12:45—Ch. 3, "Babes on Broadway." A group of young actors and actresses plan a show of their own after being turned down on Broadway.

Thalidomide Use In Ohio Checked By Food, Drug Unit

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration is checking with Ohio doctors to find out to what extent they used a tranquilizer drug called thalidomide in clinical tests.

The drug has been blamed for causing deformed babies.

"We are checking various doctors who have received the drug to make sure it is no longer being used," Theodore C. Maraviglia, regional FDA administrator, said Monday night.

He decline to name any of the 110 doctors reported to have received samples of the drug for testing. Thalidomide was manufactured by the William S. Merrell Co., Cincinnati.

The FDA said more Ohio doctors received supplies of the drug than in any state except Pennsylvania. The drug never was sold in this country but some samples were distributed for investigation of its safety. It primarily is dangerous to women in the early months of pregnancy.

Steelmen Hope 'Taking It On the Chin' Days Are Over

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Steelmen are hoping that their days of taking it on the chin are coming to an end. They took a one-two punch in the second quarter.

First, in April they were hit hard when they tried to raise prices and President Kennedy forced them to back away. Then their business fell off sharply, as their earnings reports of recent days make painfully clear.

Some hope that August will be the turning point. Most expect no marked pickup in orders and production until after Labor Day. And a few, smarting from their hurts, fear a general recession is in the making that might keep the customers away from their mills for several months more.

But weak as the second quarter earnings of most of the companies look, the industry still can boast a gain over 1961 for the half year.

With some of the big ones yet to be heard from—including U.S. Steel late this afternoon—reports of 19 steel firms show all but five doing better in the first six months of 1962 than in the like period of 1961.

Combined, the 19 earned $187,980,624 in the half year just ended, a gain of 47.4 per cent over $127,528,730 of the same 19 in the like period last year.

However, the last part of this period, the April-June quarter, saw a big drop. Eleven of the companies fell behind their earnings in the second quarter of 1961. Combined, they had $68,948,834 net income after taxes, against $89,482,593 the previous year a decline of 22.9 per cent.

Columbiana Social Notes

The annual Columbiana County Florida picnic will be held Thursday in Pavilion 2 at Firestone Park from 3 to 11 p.m.

Those attending the dinner at 5:30 are asked to bring table service and a coverdish.

Harry Eberhardt, president, and Mrs. F. C. Davis, secretary, remind those attending to bring their favorite slides of Florida.

Mrs. Ross Shockley and Mrs. Willard Zellers are co-chairmen of the Legion Auxiliary linen basket for the Street Fair Sept. 6, 7 and 8.

Mrs. Newton Grubbs, rehabilitation chairman, asks that complete puzzles and pocket-type books be brought in to the Aug. 15 meeting for distribution to Crile Veterans Hospital.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Harter were Mrs. Harter's sister, Mrs. Mary Davis of Pittsburgh and her niece Virginia of New York.

Luther Donbar, and Mrs. Emery Metz called on Mrs. Edward Birch at Greenford Saturday.

Miss Nellie Koch, Mrs. Bertha Bierman, Erma Wilson and son Lloyd called on Mrs. Rhoda Myers on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Myers spent several days with her sister, Mrs. Harvey Martin.

THE CHAIRTY CIRCLE of the Lutheran Church Women will meet in the church parlor Wednesday afternoon at 1:30. Mrs. Burkey will have the Bible study; Mrs. Rock, the "cause of the month" and Mrs. Cora Henry will be hostess.

Honoring the 90th birthday of Mrs. Mary Feight, a family gathering was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Kibler of Unity. Mrs. Larue Thayer has returned to her home in St. Petersburg, Fla., after a week's visit with her sister, Janet Fullerton, and her mother, Katie Miller.

Mrs. Rhoda Myers of Massillon spent several days with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Martin. In honor of Mrs. Myers' birthday Saturday a coverdish dinner was enjoyed by relatives and friends at the Martin home south of town.

Misses Patti Wanner and Mary Ruth Walker attended the Leadership school conducted by the Youth Department of the Lutheran churches at Capital University in Columbus last week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Lyder of Rogers were Sunday afternoon guests of her father Emmet Hollingshead.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Linder of Cincinnati are the parents of a son born July 24. Mrs. Linder is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Yarian of S. Main St.

British Freighter Crashes Into Barge In Detroit River

DETROIT (AP) — A British freighter lay a crippled hulk in the Detroit River after the ship and a barge collided Monday night.

The crash tore a great hole in the port (left) side of the 4,993-ton Montrose, and the freighter rolled onto that side as rescue boats removed 41 members of the crew without injury.

The 442-foot Montrose's foredeck was virtually submerged today. Her screw and rudder were high above the water.

She was held by her two anchors directly under the Ambassador Bridge, which links Detroit and Windsor, Ont.

The captain, Ralph Eyre-Walker of Birkenhead, England, and the chief engineer, Richard Fowden of Manchester, England, and the first mate, Nathaniel Brownlee of Belfast, Ireland, remained aboard a time to protect the owner's interests.

The ship lay in about 35 feet of water, listing nearly 45 degrees to the left. Loud clattering and banging sounds occasionally could be heard as cargo shifted and gear broke loose and plunged to the low side of the ship.

The barge and the tug that was pushing it both escaped serious damage.

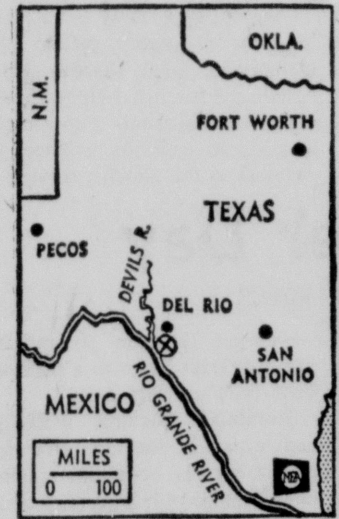

The Montrose is owned by Montreal Shipping of London and managed by Burles Marks Ltd. of London.

New York Mayor's Dog Bites Painter

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner's dog is in trouble with the law.

The Yorkshire terrier, Vinnie, bit a painter who was retouching Gracie Mansion Monday while the mayor and his wife and sons were vacationing in Europe.

Vinnie likes to think of the basement in the mayor's official residence as his private preserve. So when the painter set foot in it, the dog bit him in the leg, drawing blood.

Authorities removed Vinnie to an animal shelter for rabies tests.

Put Down That Stone, Mister

Some of the same viewers with alarm who were indignant about dissension in the Congo now are indignant about throat-cutting in Algeria.

It is deplorable when brothers who were willing to die side by side while trying to kill Frenchmen prove to be equally willing to kill one another.

Algerians will put so much tarnish on their newly gained independence if they drift into civil war that no one will give them credit for noble aspirations; they will be known only for their passion to destroy one another.

If their so-called leaders can think of nothing better to do with their energy than the devotion of their followers than stir up the baser passions on hordes of undisciplined people, they will deserve what they will get—a violent death at the hands of a blood-thirsty mob.

BUT BEFORE citizens of the United States cast the first stone at Algerians to show disapproval, they should think a long time—longer than they thought before they lashed out at the Congo. They're still lashing out at it, as a matter of fact, with a view to proving the Congo never should have been permitted to strike out for itself because its politicians can't agree.

In the United States the record shows that the War of Independence was carried on with the handicap of the Tories' bitter disapproval. The Continental Congress effectually crippled the revolution by squabbling while George Washington's half-hearted army went hungry and ill-clothed.

There never was a time when the untied and insure hands that shaped American independence quit groping for the throats of brothers; they even groped for the throat of the Father of His Country.

There was no unity. Integrity was rare. Rancor finally exploded in a civil war known to this day as the bloodiest conflict of its kind. And to this day the rancor that caused the Civil War is still festering. The United States is still divided despite an arrangement of convenience that keeps it under the same roof.

IT WAS NOT a bright and pretty thing when it happened here. Skeptics said it proved what they had warned would be true.

They said Americans lacked the intelligence and patience to rule themselves and should have let the British continue to do the job.

They said the few Britons who opposed George III's harsh policy for quelling the rebellions were traitors and fools.

As it was to turn out, the American revolution and the terrible events that ensued were to become less important than the ultimate result of giving freedom to people who were not prepared to use it properly at the time.

There are no hands without guilt to cast the first stone at Algeria if it has a civil war.

Mac, the Knife, Is a Sharpie

Overtone of the wry humor that keeps Britons from coming to blows over their violent political differences were prominent in events leading up to the vote of confidence in the Macmillan government Thursday.

Where but in the United Kingdom could Prime Minister Macmillan's friends and foes refer to him as "Mac the Knife," latest in a list of sobriquets sparkling with "Mac-wonder," "Mighty Mac" and "Macmouse"?

"Mac the Knife" refers, of course, to a prime minister who could fire the bulk of his administration's key men because popular feeling was running against his administration. Among those was Selwyn Lloyd, who had been drawing the fire of the Labor party for Macmillan's key policy of holding down wage rates—Britain's first overt move to gear itself to stiffening economic competition from the European Economic Community.

In the United States an overt move has been made too—the Kennedy government's "guideline" figure of not more than 3 percent in wage boosts, lest the United States price itself out of the market for goods being made cheaper in Europe and Asia than they are being made here.

Unlike Britain, there are no votes of confidence to be won or lost here. Our governments stand for a fixed term. Even Cabinet shakeups are rare, in the sense of housecleaning. Individual department heads come and go, but never as victims of a political purge. They leave because their health is bad, because they must make money to feed and care for their families, or because of a call to duty elsewhere—some higher service.

Otherwise, right here in the United States we might be having a Macmillan-type purge right now, to restore confidence, and we might even have a flash of British humor. We might then refer to the head of our government as "Jack the Ripper," surely no worse than "Mac the Knife," if we smiled when we said it.

Algeria's On the Way

There already has been a momentous political shift in Algeria, with the cabinet of Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda bowing to the pressure of Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella.

The latter, it appears, has an inside track on Algerian power politics, while the former has an inside track on Algerian political status.

This is mentioned with no thought of keeping track of Algerian politics, which now will be as confusing as the politics of all new countries must be until things have simmered down.

It is mentioned only as a reminder that another new government has been brought into existence in Africa and that all indications at present are for normal growth and development; i.e., from chaos to confusion to conflict—the usual routine of self-rule.

An American, Also

John Miller, a Confederate soldier slain in combat on Columbiana County soil during the Civil War 99 years ago, lies buried in West Grove Cemetery near Millport, alongside an unknown "mere boy," as the tombstone denotes, perhaps an innocent victim of the skirmish years ago when Gen. Morgan, the famed southern raider, was captured close by.

No veterans group is known to have ever paid tribute to the memory of the fallen Confederate until our local Civil War historians fired a salute over the marker Sunday during their realistic battle re-enactment.

For shame that we waited so long. He was also an American.

A No. 1 Project

Jennings Avenue residents aren't the only ones in Salem who hope federal funds will be forthcoming for the resurfacing of the 15-block-long thoroughfare. The brick street has been so bumpy for so many years that many drivers purposely avoid it.

The State Highway Department's recommendation to the Bureau of Federal Roads that the project be allowed federal secondary road funds is expected, in time, to permit the repaving on a 50-50 basis. Otherwise, the city and property owners would have to foot the entire $20,000 cost.

The project can't start too soon.

Cargo Cult

By Darius Jhabvala

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. The hopes and aspirations of a tiny group of people on a far away Pacific island have had to be suppressed by the realities of international politics.

The people of Manus Island, the carefree islanders made famous by Dr. Margaret Mead's anthropological studies, had hoped since the end of World War II that their territory would be administered by the United States.

They have made repeated pleas to visiting United Nations trusteeship missions. But to no avail. In April, it fell to an American member of one such visiting mission to try to talk them out of the idea.

The problem is partly discussed in a report now before the Trusteeship Council. Manus, largest of the Admiralty group about 200 miles northeast of New Guinea, is a gem in the blue Pacific just below the Equator with palm trees, balmy sunshine and beaches.

Some 18,000 people, Melanesians, live on the island, a low fertility area limited in agriculture yield, but high in fish, coconuts and apparently in hopes, also.

The Manus natives first tasted luxuries during the war when the American and Australian forces occupied the area in 1944-45 after routing the Japanese.

The Americans poured in a variety of supplies and left them there when the troops departed. The administration of the island was later turned over to Australia.

The departure of the Americans distressed the people. To aggravate their plight further, the islanders are strong believers in the "cargo cult." Free supplies can, they believe, be delivered to them through some supernatural intervention. By uttering certain words the hoped for is achieved, provided someone else does not perform stronger counter-magic.

Thus, the United States not only filled the islanders' material needs, but confirmed their mystical beliefs.

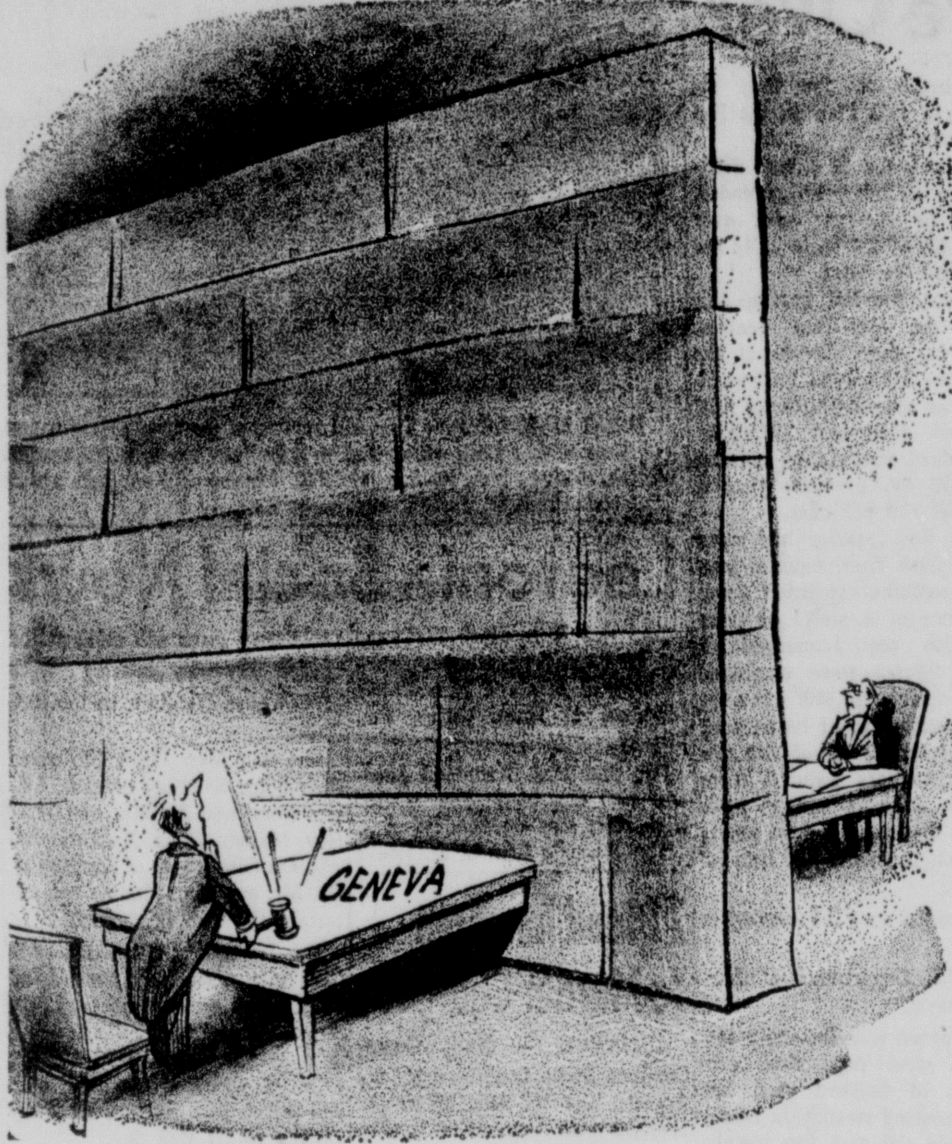

To the local administering officials, this belief became a source of hindrance to economic progress and they have often asked the United Nations missions for help.

In April, the U.N. mission was approached with the same plea. "For the future of our district," one Manus leader told the mission members, "approximately all our members wish that the United States of America should take charge of the Manus district. This great wish had been told to the last visitors who came here in 1939 and yet we have not had any answer about it."

This time they got the answer. Delmas H. Nucker, the American member of the mission, explained to the Manus leaders that America "could not come to administer them." He urged the people to think of Australia in the future and to work with it and to stop thinking of the United States.

As for the "cargo cultists," he also had a word or two of advice: There is no more cargo for them, the people must stop expecting free cargo. "Stop thinking about the United States," he said, "and start thinking about helping yourselves."

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

EAST BERLIN

A few yards from the border checkpoint and passport control there always is a lone available cab. It is driven by a disciplined Communist, carefully screened and trained by Soviet-controlled intelligence.

As soon as it rolls off with a passenger from outside the Wall, another hack replaces it. Thus all who enter the Iron Curtain on foot and seek a taxi ride are controlled. So was I when I stepped into the cab and asked to be driven to Normannenstrasse.

The hackie started his motor. Stopped it. Started slowly looking back at me while he drove at a 5-mile-an-hour pace. We picked up speed. But we did not speak until I asked him to wait while I strolled up and down Normannenstrasse. I was interested in a description of a building.

OUTSIDE nothing was startling. Inside, according to U.S. counter-intelligence and our own State Department, is one of the world's most startling operations.

In that building on Normannenstrasse is the nerve center of MFX, the Soviet-controlled East German Ministry of State Security, the world's second most massive espionage, sabotage, subversion, kidnapping and political assassination center.

From this Normannenstrasse nerve center the Soviet "Adviser Section," through the East German MFS runs an apparatus of 22,000 staff officers, 5,000 police officers and 3,000 hard-core functionaries of the German Communist party in the Soviet Zone. There also is a criminal network of hoods taken regularly from the East Berlin and Soviet Zone prisons.

MOB MUSCLE is traditional with the Communist apparatus, not only in this divided city, but throughout the world, including our own country this very minute.

Why does the super-secret Normannenstrasse need such heavy troops and agents? Espionage certainly. But also because the Soviet "advisers" and the Communist hierarchy trust no one in East Berlin or in the outer "Sovzone."

Much of the Normannenstrasse energies is spent spying on its own army and the people. This is done through the MFS Departments which seep into every moment, every working hour, every aspect of Communist-controlled Germany. There is Main Dept., "No. 1." This checks the reliability of soldiers and officers of the Soviet Zone German armed forces. Main "No. 1" has some 900 agents operating in this army. The 900's chief assignment is the recruiting of other officers and enlisted men to spy on each other.

No one trusts anybody anywhere this side of the Wall.

There is Main "No. 3." Its agents spy on all economic activities, all workers, all farmers in East Berlin and in the Zone.

THIS IS the section which has absorbed me for years. Its chief "task" is to enforce truly inhumanly speeded up production and work quotas. It checks and prosecutes the people for such "crimes" as frequent illnesses of workers, unauthorized leaves and complaints about shortages, such as meat, butter and virtually unavailable fruits. Also the lack of apartments.

Most recently, according to our own intelligence people who check the interior, Main "No. 3" has been busy bearing down on the farmers, taking their land and enforcing collectivization of agriculture.

Certainly not less important than the others is Main "No. 5."

This section keeps constant security watch over the loyalty of all Soviet Zone and East Berlin officials and civil servants.

Man "No. 5" uses muscle and political terror to control all religious activities, functioning of churches and other efforts of the people to be devout.

Operating independently of the Main Departments in a special bodyguard unit of 6,300 men. They are tough. They have to be. Their assignment is the protection of German Communist leaders, such as Walter Ulbricht, general secretary, from the walled-in East German people. Outside of Russia and Red China, this is the largest bodyguard unit in the world.

IF YOU WONDER what happened to Main Dept. "No. 2" I can tell you that our own agents have learned that it is devoted to espionage in the West. Main "No. 2" has more than 800 master spies — perhaps not quite of the caliber of Rudolf Ivanovich Abel (reported somewhere in these environs), but really top-notch top agents.

Back home you should know that one specialty of Main "No. 2" is its Dept. of Harbors. It was set up in '58. It is expert at spying on all harbor installations from Hamburg up north to New York and San Francisco as well as all NATO waterfront installations such as those in Italy.

There is no Main "No. 4." There is, however, a Main Dept. "R." It spies and harrasses Allied military missions in the Eastern Sector. We have them there, just as the Czechs and Poles have them in West Berlin and the Russians have one in Frankfurt.

So, having met a fellow or two who strolled as I strolled I got into the cab and drove over to the Warsaw Cafe on Karl Marx Allee, ate some fine black bread, pulled together these notes and documents. And so back to the opera in West Berlin.

With Gratitude

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Congress Pays Tribute to Gen. MacArthur

At last in American history, a sad chapter of seeming ingratitude has been superseded by an act of gratitude. Congress has passed a resolution to Gen. Douglas MacArthur the Thanks of the nation for his distinguished military service. So far as the official record is concerned, Gen. MacArthur has been listed since 1951 as an officer removed from all command for alleged insubordination. A committee of Congress investigated at the time but did not come to any formal conclusion. Obviously, a Democratic congress hesitated to censure the impulsive act of a Democratic president miffed by something that could have been handled more gracefully.

It happened that Gen. MacArthur answered a letter of inquiry from the Republican leader in the House of Representatives, Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts, who had asked for the general's opinion on Far Eastern questions.

Military officers can testify freely before congressional committees as long as they do not disclose military secrets. Yet a letter, which amounted to the same thing as testimony on broad policy problems, prompted the punishment meted out. The letter, incidentally, was never intended or publication.

GEN. MACARTHUR had two commands at the time. He was commander of the Allied occupation of Japan, and to this day it is universally agreed he did a wonderful job.

He was also commander of the United Nations forces in Korea. Had the American president wished, he could have changed commanders in Korea without disturbing the position of command which Gen. MacArthur held in Japan. Mr. Truman was urged to do so by his own military chiefs in Washington and by some of his cabinet officers but, apparently still resentful over the letter to Martin, chose to strip Gen. MacArthur of all command and bring him home with a public repudiation.

For 11 years the distinguished general has lived in retirement. Many of the men who served under him have not forgotten his remarkable acts of personal bravery and skillful command and have felt that the nation should be reindented in a formal way of those contributions.

It has been a delicate subject to raise because of the old political controversy. But Rep. L. Mendel Rivers of South Carolina, Democrat, never gave up. He succeeded a few years ago in getting a resolution before a committee of Congress but couldn't get it to the floor for action. This time, however, he was successful.

Chairman Carl Vinson of the House Armed Services Committee and Speaker John McCormack gave permission to have the resolution brought up. It passed unanimously. Rivers also had the aid of the Democratic majority leader, Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma, who had served on Gen. MacArthur's staff during world War II.

Sen. George Smathers of Florida, Democrat, brought up the measure in the Senate, where it was also unanimously adopted. The resolution reads as follows:

"Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring, that the thanks and appreciation of the Congress and the American people are hereby tendered to General of the Army Douglas MacArthur in recognition of his outstanding devotion to the American people, his brilliant leadership during and following World War II, and the unsurpassed affection held for him by the people of the Republic of the Philippines which has done so much to strengthen the ties of friendship between the people of that nation and the people of the United States."

IN THE FORMAL report of the House Armed Services Committee submitted by Rep. Rivers to the House, a detailed account of Gen. MacArthur's record was given from the time he was graduated from West Point in 1903 at the head of his class.

He was the son of Lt. Gen. Arthur MacArthur, who also had a distinguished military career.

This correspondent, along with other newsmen covering the War Department early in 1917 thought Douglas MacArthur, then a major, was one of the most brilliant public relations officers the government had even had and expressed professional regret when he suddenly announced he was applying for overseas duty. Newton D. Baker, secretary of war at the time in the Wilson administration, said to his news conference:

"Watch that young man. He'll be a general soon, and some day he will be chief of staff."

The prophecy came true. Major MacArthur was wounded in the war and as commander of an infantry brigade won a string of medals for bravery in action. What he did in liberating the staff of the U.S. Army.

What he did in liberating the Philippines from the Japanese in 1945, together with his remarkable service in the Korean War, are events recent enough for most people in this country to recall. That a political incident has caused such a long delay in giving full recognition to a brave man who performed a brilliant service for his country in many command posts.

At last, the record has been set straight. Fortunately, this comes during the lifetime of the 82-year-old veteran, who said in his farewell address to Congress in 1951: "Old soldiers never die—they just fade away."

Congress apparently is not willing that in official history the memory of what Douglas MacArthur did for his country should fade away but wants it to remain instead, an enduring example of devotion to the nation's service.

Another Day

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the daily miracles of our times is how a middle-aged man manages to get up and face life every morning — particularly on the mornings he has to go to work. Young people bounce out of bed because they are full of zest and hope Old people get up early because they can't sleep late anyway—and perhaps because they realize they don't have too many sunrises left to enjoy.

But when the alarm clock wakens a middle-aged man from a bad dream — it's usually one in which he is being chased by a bill collector astride a dragon — he just lies there whimpering. He feels like a tired clog in the drainpipe of humanity.

After all, he has arsen 10,000 times to face duty. What can make this quivering heap of jellied self-pity rise and do it again?

Here's what happens in the kind of home many of us may know: A spectral figure steps to the bedside of the middle-aged man and holds the noisy alarm clock silently before his shuddering face.

"Call 'em at the office, and tell 'em I've got a summer cold, dropsy, neuritis, bursitis, inflammation of the esophagus a pain in my chest—and a sore elbow," the man mutters feebly.

"You had all those things last month," says the wife.

"Do you want me to starve?" she asks dramatically.

He half-lifts himself to inquire, "How long would it take?"

The wife leaves and comes back holding up his trousers.

"If you don't get up this very minute," she says ominously, "you'll starve, too. After all, you've got 13 years, six months and four days to go to a pension. That isn't so long is it?"

Grumbling, hacking, wheezing and groaning, he knuckles the gum from his eyes and reaches down blindly with his feet, searching for his slippers.

One hour, one shower, one egg, a piece of toast and two cups of coffee later—and after a final stirring five-minute lecture to his wife on the need of more stringent household economy — the middle-aged man stumbles out the front door.

The wife, yawning, creeps with a sense of victory back to the bedroom for another hour of sleep. After all, she has done her main chore—she has once again managed to get a middle-aged husband up to face the ordeal of the day.

The human race has passed another landmark in its long struggle toward the light.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: We have been married 11 years and have four children. My husband is disgruntled with the U.S. government and wants to move to Australia.

We have just enough money to get along here if we are careful. The transportation (one way) would take every last dollar we have saved. We don't know a soul in Australia and he has no job waiting for him.

I love America and I don't want to leave. Furthermore I haven't the pioneering spirit to drag four children half way around the world to face the unknown.

He says it's a wife's duty to go wherever her husband wants to go. If his company sent him to Timbuktu I would go and not say one word, but under the circumstances I feel I have the right to refuse. Who is breaking up the family? — ELEANOR.

Dear Eleanor: It's not a wife's "duty" to uproot her young family and lug them to another continent just because her husband doesn't like the government.

Let him go alone, if he insists. He can send for you and the children when he is able to provide you with a home and three squares.

Too Young To Wed

Dear Ann: I want you to understand that I don't have to get married, but my parents have given me their consent.

I am 15 years old and my fiancé is 16. He makes a lot of money. We already have $1,000 saved.

Our wedding will be in June, 1963. I wear an engagement ring. When Tom introduces me as his fiancé no one believes him because of our ages. We love each other deeply and know that our marriage will last forever but no one else seems to think so. Why?

Isn't it possible for two people who fall in love at an early age to stay in love all their lives? We want to have children right away and grow up with them.

Answer in the paper and give us your blessing, so all our friends can see it. Please excuse the mistakes. I am writing this during my coffee break at the dime store. — FINGERS CROSSED.

Dear Fingers Crossed: The letters from 15-year-olds telling me they are madly in love would reach from the Florence Crittenton home in Chicago to the Florence Crittenton home in Toledo.

An engagement ring on a girl your age makes no sense whatever. And the thought of a 17-year-old boy winding up a husband and a father is enough to make me sick.

You didn't spell it out, but I'll bet you kids quit school to take jobs. My advice is simple: Go back to school. If this is the Great American Love Story of the Twentieth Century it will still be on fire four years from now.

Deaths, Funerals

Smith Funeral

Services for James L. Smith Sr., 53, of 1145 E. Pershing St., who died Sunday, will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Stark Memorial, with Rev. Richard Gaffney officiating. Burial will be in Hope Cemetery.

Friends may call this evening from 7 to 9 at the Memorial.

Gorby Funeral

Among the survivors is his wife, Agnes.

County Home

standards at the county homes.

Harry Stockdale, county sanitarian, reported on Dopler's and his recommendations at the Home and the progress that has been made by the commissioners and Supt. Russell Phillips.

Superintendent's Report

Phillips then reported on the present buildings being used and the hospital which now shelters 42 residents. The third floor is vacant.

He also reported on the boiler room repairs, new milk house and dairy herd inspection and that they are selling Grade A milk to East Liverpool dairy.

Phillips said that in the administration building they have his office and his family and that no workers are now being housed there.

A question and answer period followed, with George T. Farrall of East Liverpool, a member of the visiting committee, asking if improvements were made to present buildings now being used if the state fire marshal's office would continue to give the commissioners extensions and not close the Home. Mr. McLaughlin reported that all they were requesting was the diligent effort of all those concerned in fulfilling their requests made for the safety and betterment of the Home and he said he would visit the Home and would then rule on any extensions, if requested.

Mrs. Kay Blackburn of Columbiana, also a member of the visiting committee, asked Supt. Phillips what plans he has made for evacuation in case of fire and also if Phillips had adequate refrigerations. Phillips said he has not had any drills in the hospital or main building but all the hired help has been instructed on what to do. Fire departments from Guilford and Lisbon have inspected the home and they have constructed a pond so that both fire companies would have plenty of water if needed. He said that at times his refrigeration facilities are not quite adequate but that he is getting along.

Several other citizens attending spoke on behalf of the Home, all claiming that Phillips is doing a very good job and Mr. McLaughlin said from his reports he was very well satisfied with the progress being made by the superintendent with the money he was allotted.

The idea of placing the residents in rest homes was again discussed but it was also brought out that Columbiana County doesn't have enough homes to place these residents in and Commissioner Greenisen asked what assurance they would have if they place these folks in rest homes at $125 or $150 per month and several months later they would raise this fee to maybe $200 or more?

Several farmers who know the condition of the Home and the farm claimed that if they did not operate the farm in conjunction with the Home, the resident cost per day would be much greater than the $3.21 cost it now is.

Greenisen said the only solution at the Home would be to try and pass a building and operating levy, which has failed three times. He said the general fund won't allow any more for the County Home. In fact, he said, they had to cut off $11,000 this year from the budget.

Columbiana Group Studies Parking Plan

COLUMBIANA—Tentative plans to submit an appeal to Columbiana Village Council for approval of a four-month trial ban on village parking meters were discussed when retail merchants met Monday evening at Heck's restaurant.

Merchants believe free parking, along with improved merchandising methods, will bring more business to the community.

Charles Cope is chairman of the Columbiana Chamber of Commerce Merchants' Committee which is backing the free parking experiment.

Salem Man On Committee to Restore Mill

LISBON — An estimate of the cost of restoration of Gaston's Mill in the Beaver Creek State Forest Park area south of Clark-son will be made by a committee appointed at a joint meeting of the Columbiana county Forests and Parks Council and representatives of the historical societies in Columbiana County, held Monday night in the county extension service offices here.

The committee consists of Milan H. Miles of Salem, Harold B. Barth of East Liverpool and D. B. Beede of Lisbon RD 3. Plans for raising funds for the restoration of the mill was discussed.

Plans were also discussed for supporting the Ohio Division of Parks in obtaining funds for acquisition of the land and development of the Beaver Creek State Forest Park.

It was stated that the 20,000 acres which is practically undeveloped is the only scenic and recreational area of its kind in northeastern Ohio.

Elmer Hiles, the park manager, reported that thousands of people visit the park each month during the summer, even though there are few facilities available.

Improvement of sanitary facilities at Guilford Lake State park, acquisition of land in the Yellow Creek forest, and pollution of streams by chemical plants also were discussed by the group.

Atty. Donald Elliott of Rogers, council chairman, presided at last night's meeting. The next meeting will be held Aug. 31.

Katanga

Informants said today that a number of legal steps may be taken to assert the central government's authority over Katanga Province but that real pressure will have to be applied through economic measures. Consideration has been given to various means of cutting down on the income available to Tshombe, one possible device being to organize a voluntary boycott among nations that buy Katangese copper and other mineral products.

Adoula launched a new move Sunday to bring Tshombe into line. He proposed a new constitution that would allow Katanga a high degree of self-rule if it would agree to join the modified federal system. Under this proposal each province would handle its local administration, economy and law enforcement while the central government would be responsible for foreign affairs, national defense, customs, currency, foreign trade and the like.

The Adoula proposal was endorsed by the State Department late Monday.

Officials said, however, that considerably more action is needed than simply an offer of concessions if Tshombe is to be brought to the point of accepting any curtailment of the authority which he now enjoys.

Commissioners Pay $1,451 To Vets Units

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners at their meeting reported that a total of $1,451.61 has been paid for Memorial Day expenses of veterans organizations in the county. July 28 was the last day to collect these expenses.

Commissioners also authorized the payment of $44 to the city of Wellsville for 88 dogs their police destroyed during July.

Donald Hepp, welfare investigator, was authorized travel expenses to take at Columbiana Youth to Columbus to the Catholic Institute and Mrs. Theda Thornton of North Georgetown, tuberculosis nurse, was given travel allowance to take a county patient to the TV hospital in Columbus.

'THE OTHER WOMAN' — Mrs. Linda E. Renfrew (above right) of Roanoke, Va., is the "other woman" in the life of William E. Cobb, (left), chairman of the North Carolina Republican party, who has withdrawn as a candidate for state senate after admitting leading a double life.

Alliance, State Officials Agree On Street Width

ALLIANCE — State St. from the city limits east to Union Ave. will not be 56 feet wide in its four-lane highway is constructed through the city. However, a compromise was worked out by city and state officials Monday afternoon on the new proposed width.

"This was necessary," Mayor Dave Mainwaring said, "inasmuch as certain sections of the streets are not uniform in width." Consequently, these suggestions have been recommended, which the two parties hope the Ohio Dept. of Highways will adopt: State St. from Union Ave. to Penn Ave., now 48 feet will remain the same; from Penn Ave. to Clark Ave. will be widened from 40 feet to 48 feet; from Clark Ave. west to the city limits will be widened from 40 feet to 50 feet.

The mayor said that with this new procedure it will not be necessary to purchase any additional right-of-way to widen the streets and still will permit a four-lane highway.

The cost of the project to the city, state officials said, would be five per cent of the total cost. The work in the city will be part of the widening and re-routing of State Rt. 62 which will start at State Rt. 44, as originally reported by the state highway department.

Contracts for the work are expected to be let for the work in late 1963 with the actual work scheduled to start in 1964.

Girl Injured In Fall Off Tractor

Darla Haynam, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Haynam of RD 3, Salem, is in fair condition in the Salem Central Clinic Hospital where she was admitted at 9:30 p.m. Monday for treatment of possible fracture of right leg and pelvis and contusions and abrasions of both legs.

She was injured when she fell from a farm tractor at her home and caught her legs between the wheel and fender.

Susan Milhoan, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Milhoan of 852 Liberty St., was bitten on the right arm and cheek by dog while visiting at the home of William H. Milhoan of 308 W. 2nd St. She was treated and released from the Central Clinic at 3:30 p.m.

Also treated at the Clinic at 2:55 p.m. Monday was Christine Furney, one-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Furney of Canton, bitten on the right wrist by the family dog while on an outing at Berlin Lake.

posed by Little Rock businessman Winston Chandler in the only other major race.

Arkansas' four congressmen—Reps. E. C. Gathings, Wilbur Mills, J. W. Trimble and Oren Harris—are unopposed in the primary. Trimble and Harris will have Republican opponents in November.

Faubus cited industrial advance, increased funds for public schools and highways, higher welfare grants and an ambitious state construction program as evidence he should be returned to office.

The opposition argued that Faubus was dominated by utility, liquor and gambling interests, that he played politics with welfare grants and state employees, and that he was more interested in perpetuating his political organization than in the welfare of the state.

As of today, I will make the following offer — "the union will forthwith request the employees to return to work and the issue of wages and fringe benefits will be submitted to arbitration under the rules of the American arbitration association with a signed stipulation the company and union that the decision of the arbiters will be final and binding upon the parties further, the stipulation to provide that if the arbiters grants a wage increase, it shall be retroactive to the date the employees returned to work."

"In addition and at the company's option, and realizing the community interest, the union will agree to a panel of three prominent ministers selected from the village of Lisbon to hear and determine what wages if any the people are entitled to," Johnson said.

Youth Unhurt As Car Hits Edge of Bridge

Robert Lee Ketchum, 17, of 233 N. Madison Ave. escaped injury at 8:20 p.m. Monday when his car was forced off the Egypt Rd. by an unidentified vehicle and struck a concrete bridge abutment east of Salem near the Mahoning County line, the State Highway Patrol reports.

Ketchum had just made a left turn onto Egypt Rd., the Patrol said, when the other vehicle passed him, forcing his car off the road.

John Neill, 56, of 301 E. Washington St., Lisbon, was cited for passing without the assured clear distance after he was involved in a three-car mishap at 4:15 p.m. Monday on Rt. 30, three miles south of Lisbon.

According to the Patrol, Neill was attempting to pass another north-bound car operated by John M. Mozie, 19, of RD 1, Shadyside, O., when his auto glanced off an oncoming car driven by Harold R. Shivers, 32, of RD 2, Lisbon. Neill's car then sideswiped Mozie's vehicle.

Riverlake Road Change Is Proposed

A proposed relocation of approximately 13 miles of the Lake-to-River Highway (State Route 11) in Columbiana and Mahoning Counties will be discussed at a public hearing to be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 14, in the all-purpose room of Dixon Elementary School in Columbiana.

The section in question is between State Route 558 in Columbiana County and U.S. Route 224 in Mahoning County. The State Highway Department says the new line generally will run east of the original path established in January, 1959.

Under the new proposal, Rt. 11 will miss several large dairy farms and a clay products company within the right of way of the first route.

Albert P. Morris of Salem, vice-president of the Lake-to-River Highway Association, said that several farmers in the Columbiana and Canfield areas have complained that if the path originally proposed for the new highway is approved, the value of their property would be reduced.

This section of the highway is tentatively programmed for construction in 1966.

orders or on the initiative of the local guerrilla commanders.

Ben Khedda, virtually isolated in the former summer palace of French governors general in Algiers, issued an appeal for reconciliation to save the nation from anarchy and economic collapse.

He said the dispute among the leaders had caused a new panicky exodus of Europeans and led Algeria to the brink of ruin. He said this was the last moment for reconciliation, and he called on the politicians to meet in Algiers to end their quarrels without delay.

Even before Ben Khedda's appeal was published, Ben Bella's right-hand man, Mohammed Khider, came to Algiers to continue private peace talks he has been holding.

Khider, a former vice premier in Ben Khedda's government, told newsmen before leaving Oran, Ben Bella's headquarters, that the crisis was almost over and a solution was in sight. That was before Boudiaf's arrest became known.

FIRE IN BASEMENT

Firemen were called at 9:54 p.m. Monday to the residence of Fred Birkhimer on Country Club Drive where fire had broken out in the basement.

The fire started while Birkhimer was cleaning rags in the basement with gasoline, Chief E. M. Bush reported. The blaze was out by the time firemen arrived in the Perry Township truck. Minor smoke damage was reported.

Mountain Climber Buried on Slopes Where He Died

GRAND TETON NATIONAL PARK, Wyo. (AP)—A young Massachusetts mountain climber was to be buried today high on the jagged slopes of the snow-swept peak which claimed his life.

Stephen Smith, 21, of Holden, Mass., died of exposure going up Grand Teton Peak after his climbing party was caught in a snowstorm last Thursday. His grave will be about 1,200 feet from the summit of the 13,766-foot mountain.

The burial party consisted of ranger Pete Sinclair and park employees Jim Greig and Rick Horn.

They were landed by helicopter at the 10,500-foot level just before a new storm hit the area Monday. They radioed park headquarters in Jackson that bringing the body down would be extremely dangerous.

Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eric H. Smith, were contacted in Massachusetts and decided to allow the burial, the assistant chief ranger, John Davis, said.

The other nine members of the party, all members of the Appalachian Mountain Club of Boston, Mass., were recovering from their ordeal.

Swim Instruction Delayed One Week

Red Cross swimming classes, originally scheduled to begin next Monday at the Centennial Park pool, have been moved back one week, C. F. Tomlinson, superintendent of parks and recreation, announced today.

The opening has been delayed until Aug. 13 to give the Salem Aquamaids more time to prepare for their swim show to be presented at the Centennial Park pool Aug. 14 and 16. Miss Marilyn Fenton, who is one of the Red Cross swimming instructors, is also coach of the Aquamaids.

Registration for the next swimming classes will be held at the pool Wednesday morning as previously planned. The registration schedule is as follows:

9 a.m., Water Safety Aides, beginners age 9 and over and swimmers.

10 a.m., Intermediates and beginners 6 to 8 years old.

11 a.m., Beginners 6 to 8 years old.

Carsey-Wuthrick Vows Heard At Damascus

The Damascus Friends Church was the locale of the wedding at 2:30 p.m. Sunday of Miss Anita Louise Carsey, daughter of Mrs. Mary Carsey of Damascus, to Leonard F. Wuthrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wuthrick of Valley Road, Damascus.

Rev. Edward Escolme officiated at the ceremony before an altar lighted with cathedral candles in twin seven-branch candelabra and decorated with arrangements of white and yellow gladioli, palms and ivy. Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Ruth Alice Withers and Miss Marcine Filp was soloist.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Allen C. Craven, the bride wore a gown of nylon over tulle and taffeta and lace. The re-embroidered lace bodice had a scalloped neckline and three-quarter length sleeves, and was studded with sequins and pearls. Lace appliques trimmed the full floor length skirt which boasted a bow at the back waist and pleated nylon panel set in the front, with the back skirt ending in a brush train. Her veil of illusion was caught to a crown of silk roses trimmed with pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white gladioli, each floret centered with a rosebud.

Attendants were Miss Sharon Cortright, maid of honor, and Miss Amy Alberts of Sebring and Miss Bonnie Mort of Beloit. They wore sleeveless street length gowns of chiffon over matching taffeta with cummerbunds and matching headbands with bow and nose veil, in yellow, mint green and pale orchid. They carried cascade bouquets of gladioli and rosebuds.

Wayne Cameron served as best man and Clifford Craven and Ray Yeager ushered.

The 150 guests greeting the couple at the reception in the church social rooms were registered by Norma Phillips.

A three-tier wedding cake centered the bridal table, which was covered with a white Italian cut-work cloth over yellow, and was sided with arrangements of miniature pompons of white and yellow festooned with ivy in crystal holders and lighted with yellow tapers. Mrs. Gerald Binder

Mary Catherine Leone Weds Gerald L. Binder

Before an altar graced with vases of white gladioli and mums, Rev. Richard D. Freseman officiated at the double ring ceremony Saturday at 12:30 p.m. in the Emmanuel Lutheran Church uniting in marriage Miss Mary Katherine Leone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Leone of 745 W. State St., and Gerald L. Binder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Binder of 1095 E. 3rd St.

Miss Marilyn L. Schramm was soloist and Miss Bonnie Minth presided at the organ as the bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father.

She wore a floor length gown of white silk over taffeta. The scalloped neckline of the long sleeved fitted bodice was outlined with pearl jeweled Chantilly lace. The redingote covering the full flared skirt was edged with a deep scalloped border of lace and ended in full chapel train. Her three-tier veil of imported illusion was caught to a flat silk rose sprinkled with pearls and she carried a bouquet of white orchids.

Miss Marlene Binder of Columbiana, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor and Mrs. Herbert Haschen of Salem, sister of the bride matron of honor. Miss Binder was gownned in a silk organza dress of two shades of yellow with scooped neckline and cap sleeves. A cummerbund caught to a self rose at the side fell to the hemline of the full street length skirt. She complemented her dress with a head-dress of matching circlet of flowers and pearls with face veil.

Mrs. Haschen's dress was of two shades of aqua made identical to that of the maid of honor as were the bridesmaids, Mrs. William Edgerton in two shades of orchid, and Miss Carol Catlos in two shades of pink. All wore matching head bands, white wrist length gloves and carried colonial bouquets of mums.

Jerry Cosgrove of Columbus was best man and ushering were Frank Leone, brother of the bride, Matt Klein and Frank Corso.

Reception Follows

Beverly Krauss registered the 200 guests who greeted the couple at the reception in the church social rooms following the ceremony.

The white covered bride's table was centered with a white and silver three tier bridal cake topped with miniature bride and bridegroom. Appointments were of silver and white candles in silver holders lighted the scene. Bouquets of the attendants highlighted the table decorations. The Women of the Church, with Mrs. George Klammer acting chairman, served.

The bride is a graduate of Salem High School and is employed by the First National Bank.

A graduate of Salem High School, Mr. Binder attended Kent State University and is employed as an assistant national bank examiner by the U. S. Treasury Department.

Following a honeymoon at Echo Lake in the Pocono Mountains, at 241 Vine Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Binder, parents of the bridegroom, were hosts Thursday evening at Petrucci's at the rehearsal dinner at which time the bridal couple presented gifts to their attendants.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: I pour a little vinegar into all my empty mayonnaise and mustard jars and shake vigorously until the jars are clean. Then I put the mixture aside until I make potato salad or cole slaw. This is one way to utilize what is left in these jars.

I add water to get the good out of the catsup bottle. I always add the "catsup-water" to my vegetable soups, spaghetti sauce, chili con carne or anything else made with tomatoes as we usually have to add water anyway.

And I put my liquid floor wax into those little plastic squeeze bottles. This saves dragging that gallon can around!

MRS. A.B.A.

DEAR HELOISE: For in-between-snacks I clean radishes, celery and peppers, spear them with a toothpick, and put them in my refrigerator so that one can have a snack, with no effort.

H.A.S.

DEAR HELOISE: Perhaps there are some of your women readers (or even men) who have neglected to fill the gas tank and have had the car choke on its last drop of gas several blocks from the station. Then you have found that the only available can had no spout, or a spout that was too short to reach the tank opening!

A very adequate emergency tunnel can be made from a road map, a magazine, or any stiff piece of paper one might have in his car.

Just this morning, I saw a woman in this predicament, so I decided to pass this idea along for your readers.

JERI SMITH

DEAR GALS: So many people have asked what is a "plumber's friend," which I suggested using in a pail of water or your kitchen sink or even your bathtub... when you have lots of clothes to wash or when doing hand laundry...

A plumber's friend is the plunger we use to unstop our sinks. The ones with short handles can be bought at any dime store.

We suggested that you put your clothes in hot water and use this "friend" to save your hands. Much hotter water can be used by utilizing this gadget.

For those of you who only have a few black socks and other "little dabs" of clothing to be hand washed, if you don't have a "friend" you could use a potato masher!

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: When hanging tee shirts and undershirts on the clothesline after washing gather the shirt at the top and bottom and give it a hard pull. There will be no more shapeless, short undershirts if you do this every washday. I find this really helps mine keep their shape.

MRS. D. YANKE

DEAR HELOISE: I find that if I take my plastic dampener bag along with the clothes basket to the clothesline when taking down the clothes, I can put the laundry that has to be ironed right into the bag and fold the other clothes into the basket.

This saves all the extra-resorting that you have to do if you fold it into one basket and then sort and sprinkled the clothes later.

If you do not use a dampener bag, then perhaps two wash baskets would be a help.

Some 200 were present for the formal installation of the Rev. William V. Ring as pastor of St. Jacob's United Church of Christ on Sunday afternoon at 3:30 in the church sanctuary.

Dr. D. A. Bode of Youngstown, who had been serving as interim pastor of the church, gave the pastoral prayer in opening the service.

Dr. Elam G. Wiest of Cleveland, president of the Northeastern Ohio Synod, had the scripture reading and also gave the charge to the pastor. Kenneth Clapsaddle, president of the church board, gave the charge to the congregation.

The message, "The Church's Ministry," was brought by the Rev. Jack Foster, pastor of the Middletown Paradise United Church of Christ. "O Jesus, I Have Promised" was presented as a vocal solo by Ralph Cook.

Rev. Ring pronounced the benediction.

A fellowship hour followed the service in fellowship hall where

American League Homers Power 9-4 All-Star Triumph

Shaffer Ford, Scott's Candies Lose In County Tourney

Runnels, Colavito Wagner Bomb NL

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—The American League, behind the booming bats of Rocky Colavito, Leon Wagner and Pete Runnels, exploded the myth of National League superiority Monday, 9-4.

The usually self-controlled Ralph Houk, triumphant manager of the American League forces, did a poor job concealing his elation.

"Well, maybe this will shut those guys up once and for all," the Yankees' manager said. "All this talk about the National League being superior is bunk."

Nationals Commit Four Errors
The National League put on a wretched performance before the 38,359 Wrigley Field fans, committing four physical misplays and a number of mental lapses, not to mention errant throws by seemingly tired performers.

The Nationals had 10 hits, as many as the Americans. But only one home run, by John Roseboro, to three for the victors, by Runnels, Colavito and Wagner.

The Americans fielded flawlessly and engineered two double plays to none for the Nationals. Runnels' homer came in a pinch-hit role, tying the score at 1-1 in the third inning after the Nationals had scored first, tagging starter Dave Stenhouse of Washington for a single run in the second. Art Mahaffey, the victim of Runnels' blow, also served a home run ball to Wagner, with a man on base in the fourth. There was no stopping the Americans after that.

Colavito's home run, with two on, came off Dick Farrell of Houston in the seventh, making it 7-1. The only controversial play of the game occurred a few moments earlier. Following a walk to Brooks Robinson, Billy Moran hit a low drive to center field. Hank Aaron, who had replaced Willie Mays in center field for the Nationals, charged in fast and came up with the ball. Ken Burkhardt, umpiring at second base, ruled he had trapped the ball. One out later, Colavito crashed his three-run homer.

"I caught the ball and there was no two ways about it," said Aaron afterwards. "If I had trapped the ball I would have thrown to second and forced the other man. But I caught it and was the most surprised man in the world when he signaled safe."

Fred Hutchinson, the National League manager, said he thought Aaron had caught the ball and if it had been ruled as such "the outcome might have been different."

Hutchinson used 25 of his 28 available. Only pitchers Warren Spahn and Bob Purkey and infielder Jimmy Davenport saw no action. Houk used 20 players.

Asked why he started substituting as early as he did, Hutch said, "I wanted to get as many players in as I could. These guys are all good and it doesn't make too much difference who is in the game."

Houk kept three players in the game from start to end—outfielders Roger Maris and Rocky Colavito and first baseman Jim Gentile.

"No, I didn't do that intentionally," he said. "You forget that Mickey Mantle was hurt and I couldn't use him. Also, I didn't want to gamble with Al Kaline, who is just getting over a shoulder dislocation. This necessitated my moves."

The victory was the American League's second in the last eight All-Star games.

The Nationals won in Washington July 10, 3-1.

Indians Hope To End Slump

Los Angeles Invades For 4-Game Series

CLEVELAND (AP)—Now that the two major league All-Star games are out of the way, perhaps the Cleveland Indians can start playing well again.

During the period between the two All-Star games, the Indians dropped from second place (one game out of first) to fourth place (10 games behind), while losing 13 of 17 games.

Is it too late to get back in the race?

"I'm not giving up," General Manager Gabe Paul said Monday. "Weren't the 1951 Giants 13 back in the middle of August and didn't they beat out the Dodgers?"

"In 1942, weren't the Dodgers 10 games ahead of the St. Louis Cardinals and didn't the Cards win it?"

The Indians get back into action tonight against Los Angeles' surprising second place Angels in the first of a four-game series.

Jim Perry (8-8) was set to pitch for the Tribe against Eli Grba (6-5).

Tommy Lee, 19, right-hander from Fremont, has been signed by the Indians and will report to the Class D Dubuque farm club next season. The 5-foot-10, 150-pounder showed an impressive fast ball at the Indians' tryout camp for area hopefuls July 19-20. He once struck out 19 men in seven innings during his high school days at Fremont.

NBA Drops Pipers From Membership

Couldn't Raise $250,000 Admission Price

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Pipers were a team without a league and Jerry Lucas, pro basketball's hottest new property, was a player without a team today.

Those twin developments came from a surprising action by the National Basketball Association's board of governors, which Monday refused membership to the Pipers.

Maurice Podoloff, president of the NBA, said after the meeting: "The Pipers have been declared in default on their agreement with the NBA made on July 10, and the NBA will continue to operate for the coming season with the same nine teams as last year."

That raised two questions: 1. What happens to Lucas, the fabulous three-time All America from Ohio State?

2. Will the Pipers return to the American Basketball League, in which they won the championship in the circuit's first season?

"Right now I'm as much in the dark as anybody," said Lucas in Columbus, Ohio.

Lucas said George Steinbrenner, Pipers' president, planned to fly to Columbus to meet him immediately.

"The future of pro basketball in Cleveland lies with Jerry Lucas," said Steinbrenner, who attended the NBA meeting to present a proposal.

Steinbrenner added: "We had Jerry when we originally intended to play in the ABL. We feel Jerry is the boy the Cleveland fans want to see. I believe he is the most unique guy in sports. He wants to play in Cleveland and I believe he will remain firm to his devotion to Cleveland. If Jerry decides to stay with us all the way, we'll play in the ABL."

The Pipers failed to get in the NBA because Steinbrenner couldn't come up with the admission price—a reported $250,000, with $100,000 going to the Cincinnati Royals as an indemnity payment. The Royals had drafted Lucas, but he rejected their offer to join the Pipers under a two-year contract for a reported $60,000, including $40,000 in stocks.

A Cleveland syndicate, which had been formed in an attempt to keep the Pipers in the NBA, expressed disappointment at the action in New York, but it insisted it was not giving up its efforts.

Steinbrenner went into the meeting without any money, but told the NBA owners the syndicate was prepared to take over and meet all the financial obligations.

"I thought the way had been cleared for the Marks' group to step in and take over," Steinbrenner said. "I was stunned when the vote went against me."

All-Star Players, Managers Second Guess Several Calls

CHICAGO (AP)—The second guess, usually reserved for fans and sportswriters, and always frowned upon by players and managers, was used freely by participants in Monday's All-Star game in which the American League defeated the National League.

Homer Packed Victory
The American League players, celebrating their home-run packed victory, couldn't understand how the official scorers could give Tommy Davis an error on a drive by Rocky Colavito in the third inning.

And the National League players were shaking their heads over a call by umpire Ken Burkhardt in which he ruled Hank Aaron of Milwaukee had trapped the ball instead of catching it.

Neither incident really made much difference in the outcome of the lopsided and somewhat sloppy contest in which the Nationals committed four errors and contributed two of the game's three wild pitches.

It was in the third inning when Colavito, the Detroit slugger, hit a ball to the left-field wall. Davis crashed into the wall and dropped the ball for a two-base error.

"I hit the wall and my sun glasses flipped down," said Davis, "and lost sight of the ball. It doesn't make any difference to me what they called—a hit or an error."

Colavito thought he was robbed of a hit. Manager Ralph Houk nearly fell off his chair in the dressing room when he learned it was an error.

Rookie Tackle Biggest Brown

Played In UFL; Tips Scales At 281 lbs.

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—The youngest and biggest player in the Cleveland Browns' training camp is trying to make the big jump from the semi-pro sandlots to the rugged National Football League.

He's Wayne Sadowski, a defensive tackle who slimmed down from 325 pounds to 281 pounds. He'll be 21 years old Saturday.

Last season, the Cleveland boy played in his hometown — but with the Cleveland Bulldogs of the United Football League, getting 50 a game.

"Difference between the Bulldogs and this is like day and night," he commented Monday. "For one thing the guards are much smaller in the United Football League. I'd hit them and they'd bounce back a yard or two. They don't bounce much here."

The Browns usually carry three defensive tackles. Veterans Bob Gain and Floyd Peters have the starting jobs locked up, but the Lucas, but he rejected their offer to join the Pipers under a two-year contract for a reported $60,000, including $40,000 in stocks.

E. Liverpool Team, Minerva Cop Wins

Shaffer Ford and Scott's Candies eliminated from the Columbiana County Fastpitch Softball Tournament Monday at Kelley Park, bringing the total to four teams knocked from the starting field of 16 aggregations in the double elimination tourney.

The Lisbon Hotel and the East Liverpool East End Merchants squads were knocked from the tournament over the weekend.

EAST LIVERPOOL Patterson-Wetzel continued to advance in the loser's bracket by pinning a 12-3 setback on Scott's while Minerva SVC got past Shaffer Ford 6-4 in another loser's bracket encounter.

Scott's Candies moved to a 1-0 lead in the top half of the first canto but East Liverpool came right back in the last half of the frame to move into 3-1 margin which it never lost.

The winners added four more tallies in the second, one each in the third and fourth innings and fished up with three in the sixth.

The losers chalked up runs in the second and fourth innings as Howard Wilson limited Scott's to just three hits. Scott's second run was scored when Bill Morrison led the canto off with a walk and was brought home on a triple by Rick Morrison.

Pacing the losers three-hit attack was Rick Morrison with a triple and a single. Dick Funk added a double for Scott's.

Frank Kenny was the big gun for the East Liverpool nine with four hits in four trips to the plate. Al Dawson socked three hits, including a homer.

Minerva jumped to a 2-0 lead in the first inning and moved to 6-0 margin before Shaffer Ford got rolling.

SHAFFER'S MANAGED TO chalk up all four of its tallies in the sixth stanza on a single by Gene Stallsmith, three walks and an error. Minerva added one run in the third and three in the fourth.

Showing the way in the Minerva batting department were Perry Schlemmer, Don Reed and Harold Moyer, all with two hits each. Schlemmer and Moyer collected a double apiece.

Besides Stallsmith's one-bagger, singles were recorded by Mark Headland, Laird Bowersock, Harley Hoffman and Jerry Stayton.

Many Diverse Dishes Set For August

Sports Smorgasbord Available to Ohio Fans

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A sports smorgasbord of huge proportions will be spread before Ohio's fans in August. No August in history has featured such diverse dishes.

State and national titles will be decided, along with some top-flight exhibitions. Making up the menu are baseball, football, golf, swimming, horseshoe pitching and the nation's two biggest shooting sports.

These are in addition to the baseball pennant chases in which the "Three-C" teams—Cleveland, Cincinnati and Columbus—are involved.

Many of the fixtures overlap, posing a problem for the fan who gets around and wants to take a look at everything.

But here's a quick look at what's going to happen:

1-4: Windup of the Ohio American Legion baseball championships at Athens.

1-8: World horseshoe pitching championships at Greenville (Harold Reno of Sabina, reigning king).

1-12: Second annual $50,000 American Golf Classic at Akron Firestone Club; 72-hole medal play event, with Tom Weiskopf of Bedford as defending champion.

11: National Football League's Hall of Fame game at Canton, between New York Giants and St. Louis Cardinals. Night game, Fawcett Stadium.

9-12: Second annual $50,000 American Golf Classic at Akron Firestone Club; 72-hole medal play event, with Tom Weiskopf of Bedford as defending champion.

10-12: Men's American swimming championships, featuring team from Japan, at Cuyahoga Falls.

18: Professional football's first exhibition double-header, between Detroit-Dallas and Cleveland-Pittsburgh at Cleveland Stadium. Detroit-Dallas game at 6:30 p.m., Browns-Steelers at 9 p.m.

1-26: National pistol-rifle matches at Camp Perry, featuring more than 3,500 youngsters, women, civilians, police and service marksmen.

17-25: Grand American Trapshoot at Vandalia, with about 2,500 of best marksmen in western hemisphere competing for high purses. More than a Million and half rounds of 12-gauge shotgun shells will be fired.

Barberton Man Cops Races At Cycle Rally

Robert Worden of Barberton captured the scrambles race and the trophy dash Sunday at the Northeastern Ohio Rally held by the Western Reserve Flyers Motorcycle Club.

On Saturday the flat track event was won by Tom Scharlow of Youngstown.

Sweitzer Fires 27 At Root 62 Golf Course

Top score recorded at Root 62 Golf Course over the weekend was a par 27 fired by Dick Sweitzer of Salem. The tally of 25 chalked up by Dusty Rhodes of Alliance last week is the new course record.

Winners of the ladies free instructional day festivities include Mrs. Merrick Lewis of Alliance, Mary Ann Hoover of Salem, and Delores Palmenter of Alliance.

ATTEND JAYCEE PARLEY

Ford Joseph, Jr., Donald DeJane and Robert Conroy attended the Ohio Jaycees state meeting held in Lima Saturday and Sunday.

Joseph is president and Conroy treasurer of the Salem Junior Chamber, while DeJane is a state director.

Main speaker at the Sunday luncheon was U.S. Representative Bruce Alger of Texas.

The next all-state meeting will be held in Columbus Sept. 29-30.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. H. T. HYMAN
Smoking IS Bad For Heart

Q—What proof is there that smoking has a bad effect on the heart and circulation?
A—There is both experimental and clinical proof. For example, it can be demonstrated in the laboratory that nicotine lessens blood flow through the coronary arteries, thus depriving heart muscle of needed nutriment.
Furthermore, coronary blood flow is lessened progressively as the bed is narrowed due to pre-existent disease.
Clinically, many physicians have observed that certain conditions, such as angina pectoris and especially a disease of the vessels of arms and legs called thrombo-angiitis obliterans, are made worse by continued smoking.

ing and eased by "kicking" the tobacco habit.
In my published textbooks, your doctor will find an illustration showing changes in the electrocardiogram, caused by smoking. Another shows the effects on the hands when a patient with thrombo-angiitis stopped and then resumed smoking.
Q—My sister writes from Sweden that her baby was delivered with the help of a "vacuum extractor" that shortened her labor and made it easier. What is this extractor? Is it being used in America?
A—The Malmstrom vacuum extractor is of Swedish origin. It consists of a suction cup that is fitted to whatever part of the baby shows except for the face. Thus, it might be attached to the head or brow to aid delivery. The extractor may be used in place of forceps.
Naturally, its use requires skill, and initial experiences here in America tend to confirm the claim that it is a "definite aid to delivery." The risk of its use to the mother is negligible. Damages to the baby consist merely of slight blistering and superficial abrasions at the place of contact.
While on the subject of childbirth, another promising innovation is that of use of a pressure suit, such as is worn by astronauts. This suit permits pressure to be exerted on the abdominal wall as an aid to uterine contractions.
Please understand, however, that these innovations are still in experimental phases.
They are not yet available for routine use except under expertly controlled conditions.

Slight Reduction In Gas Rates Announced

Salem residents will pay one-half cent a thousand cubic feet less than they are now paying for natural gas starting Sept. 1, it was announced today by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co.
At the same time, rates also will be adjusted in 54 other communities served by Ohio Fuel, under provisions of escalator clauses in their natural gas contracts with the company.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Tuesday, July 31, the 212th day of 1962. There are 153 days left in the year.
Today's highlight in history:
On this day in 1877, Thomas Edison took out a patent for shadowing the development of the phonograph. It reproduced sounds after a fashion but Edison was not satisfied and put aside the idea until considerably later.
On this date:
In 1777, the Marquis de Lafayette offered his services to the American Congress and was promptly made a major general.
In 1790, the first patent was issued by the U.S. government—to Samuel Hopkins of Vermont for an improved method of making compounds used in manufacturing glass and soap.
In 1914, Austria ordered a general mobilization and moved troops to the Russian border.
In 1941, the Japanese occupied French Indo-China.
In 1943, American soldiers were locked in battle with the Japanese near Munda, New Georgia.
Today's birthdays:
The Kansas City Athletics' manager, Hank Bauer, is 40.
Thought for today:
Your credit is always good when you start to borrow trouble.

THE SIGN THAT SAYS: IT'S MODERN!

Practically all new homes are heated with GAS . . . now, more and more are enjoying GAS air conditioning. Think of cozy-cool sleep through the hottest nights . . . carefree cooking in a comfortably cooled kitchen . . . a mood of living that stays bright and happy because the whole family feels better. That's what you get with GAS central air conditioning.

And you'll be pleasantly surprised to learn that GAS air conditioning costs less than you might have thought. You'll wonder why you've been without it for so long.

The purchase and installation cost of a central GAS heating-cooling system in a new home can be financed with the mortgage, for a very modest increase in payments. Planning to remodel? Consider having a GAS add-on air conditioning unit installed in your present GAS forced air heating system. You can probably use the existing heating ductwork for cooling to get added installation economies. And for convenience you can finance the whole job through the Gas Company, and pay for it along with your regular gas bill.

If you are planning to buy or build a new home or to remodel your present home, find out about GAS air conditioning. You'll want it! You can afford it! Call your Gas Company for a free air conditioning survey.

There's nothing like a FLAME for cooling or heating
